

Announcing the 2008

IAM Photography Contest

The IAM is holding its annual member-only photography contest and you are encouraged to enter. TCU members can also enter the contest. You can download a contest entry form by going to www.goiam.org/photocontest.

The site also contains contest rules and photography tips. Entries should catch IAM or TCU members at work in unposed photos. If your entry wins, you'll win a cash prize and your photo will appear in the 2009 IAM Calendar.

A portion of the sale of each calendar is donated to Guide Dogs of America.

Photos may be in film or digital format. Digital photos must be shot with a camera with at least three megapixels and must be set at the "fine" setting.

It costs nothing to enter, and you may win! The deadline for entries is June 1, 2008.
