

Transportation Communications International Union

An affiliate of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers

God Bless America

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

September 22, 2009

H. Edward Hanway, Chairman & CEO
CIGNA Corporate Headquarters
Two Liberty Place
1601 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, PA 19192

Dear Mr. Hanway:

On behalf of the members of the Transportation Communications International Union/IAM whose dental benefits are administered by your company, I request that you cease 1) your opposition to a public health insurance plan option within national health care reform legislation, 2) the use of union paid premium dollars to finance your opposition activities.

To be successful, health care reform must include cost containment. The public health insurance option is the only credible proposal currently before Congress that promises immediate relief from skyrocketing costs.

It is offensive to me, and to the members of TCU that your company uses union paid premium dollars or payments to oppose the health care reform that working families need.

This matter is vital to the interests of union members and extremely urgent. I would request a response to this letter by September 30, 2009.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

CC: Executive Council

Transportation Communications International Union

An affiliate of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers

God Bless America

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

September 22, 2009

Scott P. Serota, President & CEO
Blue Cross Blue Shield Association
225 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago, IL 60601

Dear Mr. Serota:

On behalf of the members of the Transportation Communications International Union/IAM whose collectively bargained health care benefits are administered by your company, I request that you cease 1) your opposition to a public health insurance plan option within national health care reform legislation, 2) the use of collectively bargained premium dollars to finance your opposition activities.

To be successful, health care reform must include cost containment. The public health insurance option is the only credible proposal currently before Congress that promises immediate relief from skyrocketing costs.

It is offensive to me, and to TCU members that your company uses collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the health care reform that working families need.

We intend to work with our employers to end your company's use of collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the interests of union members and employers.

This matter is vital to the interests of union members and extremely urgent. I would request a response to this letter by September 30, 2009.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

CC: Executive Council

Transportation Communications International Union

An affiliate of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers

God Bless America

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

September 22, 2009

Ronald A. Williams, Chairman & CEO
Aetna
151 Farmington Avenue
Hartford, CT 06156

Dear Mr. Williams:

On behalf of the members of the Transportation Communications International Union/IAM whose collectively bargained health care and dental benefits are administered by your company, I request that you cease 1) your opposition to a public health insurance plan option within national health care reform legislation, 2) the use of collectively bargained premium dollars to finance your opposition activities.

To be successful, health care reform must include cost containment. The public health insurance option is the only credible proposal currently before Congress that promises immediate relief from skyrocketing costs.

It is offensive to me, and to TCU members that your company uses collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the health care reform that working families need.

We intend to work with our employers to end your company's use of collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the interests of union members and employers.

This matter is vital to the interests of union members and extremely urgent. I would request a response to this letter by September 30, 2009.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

CC: Executive Council

Transportation Communications International Union

An affiliate of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers

God Bless America

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

September 22, 2009

Stephen J. Hemsley, President & CEO
UnitedHealth Group
P.O. Box 1459
Minneapolis, MN 55440-1459

Dear Mr. Hemsley:

On behalf of the members of the Transportation Communications International Union/IAM whose collectively bargained health care benefits are administered by your company, I request that you cease 1) your opposition to a public health insurance plan option within national health care reform legislation, 2) the use of collectively bargained premium dollars to finance your opposition activities.

To be successful, health care reform must include cost containment. The public health insurance option is the only credible proposal currently before Congress that promises immediate relief from skyrocketing costs.

It is offensive to me, and to TCU members that your company uses collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the health care reform that working families need.

We intend to work with our employers to end your company's use of collectively bargained premium dollars to oppose the interests of union members and employers.

This matter is vital to the interests of union members and extremely urgent. I would request a response to this letter by September 30, 2009.

Sincerely,

Robert A. Scardelletti
International President

CC: Executive Council